ORAL EPIDEMIOLOGY
PhD TRAINING POSITIONS

The University of North Carolina is accepting applications for positions in the Oral Epidemiology PhD Program, a cooperative effort of the Schools of Dentistry and Public Health. Degree recipients will have the advanced knowledge and skills necessary to conduct, interpret, and evaluate sophisticated epidemiologic investigations of clinical and public health significance. Financial aid is available for a few dentists who are US citizens or permanent residents through a training grant. For information contact: Dr. James D. Beck, School of Dentistry Campus Box 7450, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7450. Tel: 919-966-2767. Internet: james_beck@unc.edu. Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action employer.
